TWO PAIRS OF HEARTS.

An Entangled Alliance in the Crim and Honaker Families.

There was a double wedding under romantic circumstances Monday morning at the residence of Mr. Robert C. Nicol, one mile from the city, which, like a number of other similar marriages, over which genealogists have puzzled, will have the effect of alighty entangling the lines of relationship.

Two cousins married a brother and sister. Mr. Charles H. Crim and his cousin, Miss Mary J. Crim, living near Bagdad, and Miss Annie Honaker, daughter of Mr. Fred Honaker, of Louisville, and her brother, Mr. John B. Honaker, Jr., of Bloomfield, were the contracting parties. Mr. Crim and Miss Honaker making one couple, and Mr. Honaker and Miss Crim the other. While the young ladies were visiting each other Sunday, the gentlemen proposed that they take a drive to Frankfort and consummate the fondest wishes of their ardent courtship by a double wedding at the residence of Mr. Nicol, who is a cousin of one bride and aunt of the other. It was agreed to and accordingly Mrs. Nicol was greatly surprised on Monday to hear the couples, on alighting from their buggies, announce that they had come to get married. With the assistance of Mr. Nicol, the requisite licenses were obtained and Rev. H. G. Henderson, of the Methodist Church, requested to attend to perform the ceremony.

The parlor, in the meantime, was decorated with fresh flowers from the conservatory and beautiful bouquets were given to each of the brides, who in her handsomest and most becoming gown, was a lovely type of Kentucky's young womanhood.

Within an hour the ceremony was over and the couples on their return to their respective homes. Though the marriage was not the result of an elopement, it was a sudden and unexpected sequel to their love affairs with which their relatives and friends became acquainted, and doubtless ere this, the curious among the number have solved the complete and exact relationship the wedded couples bear to each other, whether Mr. Crim is Mrs. Honaker's cousin, or her brother-in-law or Mr. Honaker is a brother or cousin-in-law to his sister.

A DOUBLE MARRIAGE.

One of the Couples Being Mr. John D. Griffin, of this City, and Miss Lizzie Cronan, of Louisville.

The marriage Mr. John D. Griffin, of this city, to Miss Lizzie Cronan, of Louisville, at the Cathedral of the Assumption, on Fifth street, in that city, Wednesday morning, at 5:30 o'clock. At the same ceremony Mr. C. J. Cronan, brother of Mr. Griffin's bride, was united in marriage to Miss Anita Hamel, both of Louisville. Rev. Father Rock officiated and the following gentlemen acted as ushers: Messrs. James McAluffe and C. E. Collins, of this city, and Fred Harrig, Jr., James White, Ed. O'Connor and Ed. Kirwin, of Louisville.

Mr. Griffin fainted twice at the altar before the ceremony was completed.

The wedding party drove from the church to the home of Mrs. Mary Cronan, 1025 West Chestnut street, where they ate breakfast. A few hours later the happy couples were speeding on their way to Chicago to enjoy the World's Fair. Mr. and Mrs.

Griffin will return to their home in this city the last of next week.

Mr. Griffin, who is the efficient superintendent of the water works of this city, was presented by the company with as handsome a set of silver service as Mrs. M. A. Selbert could procure. It was composed of seven pieces: tray, coffee urn, tea pot, hot water pitcher, sugar bowl, cream mug and spoon holder. The tray bears the inscription, "John D. Griffin, from Frankfort Water Company, May 17, 1893." In the center of an ornament on the tray and on all the rest of the pieces is the letter "G" in old English style. Besides this Mr. and Mrs. Griffin received a large number of beautiful presents from their numerous friends both here and in Louisville.

CANNEL COAL.

Three Barges Floated Down the River this Week From the South Fork of the Kentucky.

The floating to this city on Monday of three barges of 3,000 bushels each of Kentucky river cannell coal was an event of more than usual significance. It foreshadows what will happen when the improvement to navigation is completed. The coal was dug out of a high cliff on the South Fork and hauled one and one-half miles to the bank where it remained for nearly eight months awaiting water enough to bring it down the river. There is an inexhaustible supply of this splendid cannell coal on the South Fork, and it is easily mined for 4 or 4½ cents a bushel, as W. G. Gaywood says, who brought the barges to this city, but before it can reach the market by reason of the present insufficient facilities for transportation, more than eight or nine cents have been added to the cost, and when it gets to the dealer, he is obliged to pay fourteen cents for what, if the river improvements were completed, he could buy for nine or ten cents and still leave a good margin for the owners of the mines. As it is now, Gaywood says there is no money in it to him at fourteen cents and he does not propose to bring any more of it down the river. He sold two barges to a Clifton dealer and one to E. M. Williams, and as the coal, though high, is most superior in quality and believed to be a very saleable article, Black & Hughes subsequently bought one of the barges from the Clifton dealer.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main, of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I warrant every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle. 35-1m.

Big Excitement in Town.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Dyspepsia, indigestion & Debility.

RESIDENT RIVER ENGINEER.

Capt. I. V. Hoag, Jr., Retired, and Succeeded by Lieut. H. E. Watterman of the Regular Army.

Lieut. H. E. Watterman, of the army engineer corps, and a graduate of West Point, was appointed last week to succeed Capt. I. V. Hoag, Jr., as resident engineer in charge of the Kentucky River Improvement. Lieut. Watterman arrived Saturday and has entered upon the discharge of his duties. Though a young man, it is said that he has had considerable experience on river improvement works and is held in the highest esteem by his superior officers who consider him one of the ablest engineers in the corps. He is the first regular army engineer who has had charge of this river and his appointment is regarded as significant of the belief of the Board of Engineers that the people here are in earnest and mean to push the matter before Congress and have the improvements to navigation completed at the very earliest moment, to accomplish which will require the attention and direction of a chief of the most superior qualifications.

Capt. Hoag, who retires from the service to undertake a more lucrative business, as a contractor for large public works, has made many friends in this city whose regrets at his departure and good wishes for his future prosperity will accompany him to his new field of enterprise.

Dr. Hale's Household Tea

Is a pleasant herb drink, which positively cures dyspepsia, liver complaints, and all kidney diseases. One dose a day taken at bed time does the business. 25 and 50 cts. per package. Get it to-day at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

His Honor "Scrub."

Mayor Charles Webb, of Paris, was in the city Tuesday on business. Some ten or twelve years ago he was a resident of this city, as an employee of the old Yeoman office, and made many friends here. "Scrub" now thinks managing the municipal affairs of a flourishing blue grass city beats sitting type all hollow.

Strikes of the rod—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That's the reason so many different diseases and disorders are cured by it. They all have the same beginning—there's a torpid liver or impure blood. And they all have the same ending—they're cured by this remedy. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness; the most obstinate Skin and Scalp Diseases, such as Salt-rheum, Tetter, Erysipelas, Eczema and kindred ailments; the worst forms of Scrofula—even Consumption (or long-scurvy) in its earlier stage; every blood-taint and disorder, no matter how it came—all are cured by it. It's the only medicine for all such diseases that's so positively certain in its effects that it can be guaranteed. If it fails to benefit your cure, in any case, the money is refunded. Nothing else can be "just as good." It may be better—for the dealer. But he isn't the one who needs help. Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at low prices. Reb. 417.

Are You Going to the Ex?

If you are contemplating a trip to Chicago during the great Columbian Exposition and want a real first-class place to stop, where everything is done up in regular old Kentucky style, write to Mrs. S. F. Richardson, 162 Dearborn Avenue, Chicago, to save you quarters in her house. Mrs. Richardson is a former Frankfort lady, widow of the late Owen T. Richardson, and one of the nicest of house-keepers. Her terms are reasonable and she should be liberally patronized by people from her old home.

MRS. A. H. CRUTCHER DEAD.

She Fell Asleep at Hartwell, Ohio, and Was Laid to Rest in This City.

Mrs. Walton Henderson Crutcher was born August 25, 1863, at Demopolis, Alabama, daughter of Rev. Howard A. M. Henderson and Susan Watkins Vaughan. Twelve years of her life were spent in Frankfort, a pupil of Dr. James W. Dodd. During eight years here her father was Superintendent of Public Instruction, 1871-'9, and she was a favorite in official and literary circles. Subsequently she resided in San Francisco, Hannibal, Mo., Jersey City and N. Y. City, where her father was pastor of leading Methodist Churches. She assisted her father in his labors of love, being highly esteemed by the old, the sick and the poor, among whom she was an angel of mercy.

She was married August 9, 1887, in New York City, to Albert H. Crutcher, Esq., a promising lawyer and official at Los Angeles, California—a native of Frankfort, son of John N. and Martha W. Crutcher, and grandson of the veteran editor of "The Commonwealth," Col. A. G. Hodges. She and her husband were schoolmates. She was of rare beauty, queenly grace, fine accomplishments, and literary taste of the highest order. As a conversationalist she excelled, having vivacity, fancy and a flute-like voice. She was a pianist of no mean degree, with exquisite taste for the interpretation of Chopin, Schubert and other masters of plaintive music. She displayed a budding genius for polite literature, and, had she lived, promised to become an author of distinction. She was long an invalid, but relieved the tedium of the sick-room by study of English classics and charitable deeds. She suffered excruciating pain, yet managed to make happy those who ministered to her wants and who had access to her sick-room.

Last June she came East for treatment, having the best medical skill and parental care at Hartwell, Ohio, a beautiful suburb of Cincinnati, where her father is a pastor. The whole community became sympathizingly interested in her sufferings and ministered to her comfort. Her husband came to her last December, and never left her bedside while life lingered—an instance of devotion never surpassed. Monday, May 15th she met death without alarm or suffering. Her life closed as "gently shuts the eye of day." They "thought her dying when she slept, and sleeping when she died."

She left a written request to be dressed in white, with a cluster of "lily of the valley" in her hand; that Rev. Harry Henderson, a friend of her girlhood, should read the funeral service; that "When the mists have rolled away," "We shall meet beyond the river," and "Go bury thy sorrow," be sung; and that she be buried at Frankfort, Ky. On Thursday her wishes were consummated, a large concourse of friends having assembled at her grave in the beautiful cemetery crowning hill and river. Her hillock was tapestried with the rarest white flowers, and looked more like a bower of beauty than a prison of clay. When the grave had been clothed with blossoms a chosen choir sang "Peacefully sleep," the soft air breathed a benediction and all nature said "Amen."

While Mr. T. J. Richey, of Alton, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and in a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by J. W. Gayle. 35-1m.

BICYCLE RELAY RIDE.

What the Governor of Illinois will Say to the Governor of Kentucky.

Frankfort did not get the compliment of one of the relays in the great bicycle relay ride from Springfield, Ill., to this city, but she got the next best thing to it in the appointment of Mr. Will. A. Lewis, of the ROUNDABOUT, to accompany Mr. Thomas E. Jeffries on the twelve mile relay from Peytona.

As this is to be a grand test of the speed and uses to which bicycle relays may be put, the entrance into this city along the Louisville pike, on next Saturday, will no doubt be eagerly looked for by a large crowd of interested spectators.

The distance from Springfield to New Albany is 300 miles, which will be run on an average of ten miles an hour, including night as well as day riding, and the distance from New Albany to Frankfort is 61 miles, which will be run in 4:05 hours, or fifteen miles an hour.

The start at Springfield, with the message that Gov. Aldridge proposes to send to Gov. Brown, will be made at 9 o'clock Friday morning, in the presence of a large assemblage and under the inspiration of music and appropriate ceremonies. New Albany will be reached about 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

From New Albany to Frankfort, which is under the charge of Ed. McGarry, Jr., of Louisville, is divided as follows:

To Louisville, 7 miles—Phil E. Allison and Curt Scott.

To Middletown, 14 miles—Will Ruby and George Martin.

To Simpsonville, 10 miles—Dr. V. H. Hobson and Hugh Caperton.

To Shelbyville, 8 miles—Albert Hughmark and Phil Barbour.

To Peytona, 10 miles—Perry Weaver and Mort Broadus.

To Frankfort, 12 miles—Tom Jeffries and Will A. Lewis.

On arriving at the Executive Mansion in this city about 7 o'clock, the Messrs. Jeffries and Lewis will deliver the message to Gov. Brown, who will address the crowd that will be present on the occasion.

THE CONVICTS.

More Cell Room and Other Improvements to be Made in the Penitentiary.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners met Wednesday and adopted a resolution to employ idle convicts in building additional cell house accommodation, shops, rooms and other necessary improvements at the penitentiary in this city, contemplated by the appropriation of $55,000, which the Legislature made some time ago. This resolution, however, is not intended to interfere with the purpose of leasing the convicts, for which proposals are now invited, but it is merely an adjunctive plan to make the best use of the appropriation by employing on the work all such convicts who may not be leased. An architect will be engaged at once to draw the plans and specifications and the improvements will be made at the earliest moment.

Why Don't You Stop

These words are very familiar to readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is: "Heart Disease." Therefore, beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short Breath, Pain in Side, Smothering Spells, Swollen Ankles, Asthmatic Breathing, Weak and Hungry Spells, Tenderness in Shoulder or Arm, Flushing of Heart or Irregular Pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at J. W. Gayle's, who also sells the New Heart Cure. 1

WRECK AND CHASE—Sunday morning an open switch derailed a freight train near Bagdad and it was reported in this city that it was probably done by a lunatic who was said to be at large on the Black farm, below Collins' station. Marshal Jeffers, Chief Williams and Officer Innes, started in pursuit that night but failed to find the lunatic, and on their return on the Devil's Hollow turnpike, the horse they were driving to a surrey, became frightened and broke a trace and Jeffers jumped from the vehicle without injury, but Williams and Innes were thrown to the ground and sustained a number of severe bruises.

PENITENTIARY LIGHTED—Warden Norman completed his electric light plant and turned on a blaze of lights in and around the penitentiary Wednesday night that ought to make

The Cosmopolitan for May.

A New York daily paper, taking up the idea conveyed in Flammorian's exciting novel, "Ologa: The Last Days of the World," has interviewed a number of the leading men in all professions as to what they would do if science were to predict to-morrow that the end of the world would arrive within the next thirty days. The answers are various and curious, and heighten the interest which is felt in the second part of Flammorian's great novel, which appears in the May Cosmopolitan. It is a question which everyone will find interesting to ask of himself: What would you do if within six weeks the end of the world were certain? Probably no novel which has ever appeared in an American magazine has been more elaborately illustrated by more distinguished artists. Laurens, Saunter, Vogli, Meaulle, Rochegrosse, Gerardin and Chovin all contribute to the explanation of the text.

A clever story of another kind is that of the new English novelist, Gilbert Parker, in the same number. "American Society in Paris" is an article of another kind, in which one which will interest all who have had occasion to make even a short residence in the French capital. The Cosmopolitan scores a success in producing in its May number, almost simultaneously with the daily papers, an elaborate description of professor Gray's marvellous investigation, the Telsitograph, which reproduces the handwriting, or the work of the artist, simultaneously, thousands of miles distant from the place where the writer or artist is sitting. Mr. Howells' purpose in "The Traveller from Altruria" is, month by month, becoming more evident, and is now receiving wide attention at the hands of the critics all over the world.

COMMITTEE REPORT

On Capital Removal and a Bill to Make Lexington the Seat of Government.

The official proceedings of the House on Tuesday tell the sequel to the story of the capital removal agitation.

But one city, and that Lexington, which is developing a local political stench, filed its proposition with the committee. The report of the committee says that the proposition of Lexington contains a full statement of the financial condition of said city, but the grand jury, the Lexington papers represent, is not through with its investigation which may somewhat modify the statement.

Lexington said she would give all the grounds necessary for State buildings and $250,000, and thereupon Mr. W. H. May introduced H. B. 644: "Providing for removal of the seat of government from the city of Frankfort, and the location of same in the city of Lexington."

The committee's report and bill were referred to the Committee on Printing and Accounts. The citizens need not feel the least uneasiness over the removal. The best informed on the Square say the matter died with the Louisville charter and that nothing short of an earthquake now will knock the State House from its location in Frankfort.

A resolution was also introduced in the Senate on Wednesday by Senator Breckinridge, to the effect that it was the sense of that body that the capital be removed from Frankfort. It was ordered printed.

DEATH BY DROWNING.

Doddridge Graves, a Lad of Sixteen Years, on Sunday Morning Fell into the River and Sank in Ten Feet of Water Under a Raft.

The sad news was spread on Sunday that Doddridge Graves, a youth of sixteen years of age, and son of W. D. Graves, deceased, who was deputy county clerk a number of years ago under Mr. James G. Crockett, deceased, was accidentally drowned by falling into the river near Saffold's distillery. Graves had been in company of Landon Taylor and Robert Sutherland, on a fishing trip, and while the party were in camp at the point indicated, he rowed across the river about 11 o'clock that day in a skiff to get some fire-wood. His companions were not observing his movements closely, but they saw him return almost to the rafts which line the shore in that locality, and the next thing they were aware of was the exclamation of young John Morris, who had just arrived on the scene, that Graves had fallen into the river. They ran to the rafts and made every effort to save the boy, who had gone down in more than ten feet of water, but they were not successful in finding him.

It is not known exactly how the accident occurred, but it is believed that Graves, who could not swim, was in the act of stepping from the skiff to the raft, when the backward floating of the skiff caused him to lose his balance and plunge into river and beneath the logs.

A number of friends, on receipt of the news, at once entered upon a search for the body, which after continuous dragging of the river and discharging of a large quantity of dynamite was not found until Tuesday morning, when Mr. Frank M. Morgan brought it to the surface with his grappling hooks, from a point within forty feet of the place where the boy was seen to sink.

The deceased was a bright and capable youth, whose untimely death blights the bright hopes of his family. Besides his widowed mother, two brothers and five sisters mourn his loss, one of the sisters being the wife of County Clerk Smith, one the wife of Deputy County Clerk Wallace and one the wife of Mr. G. A. Thomas, of the Evening Journal.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon from the family residence, on South Shelby street, Rev. H. G. Henderson conducting the services.

Birds of Passage

Between this and the other side of the broad Atlantic, in the shape of tourist, commercial travelers and mariners, agents "on the road," steamer captains, ship's surgeons and "rail route and condition" of travelers, emigrant and new settlers appreciate and testify to the preventive and remedial properties of Hodder's Stomach Bitters in sea sickness, indigestion, malaria and rheumatic troubles, of the stomach, liver and bowels. Against the prejudicial influences of climate, cruddy food or unseasoned diet and impure water, it is a sovereign safeguard, and has been so regarded by the traveling public for over a third of a century. No form of malarial fever, from the casbah of the Pacific and the brooding bone fever of the Mississippi, to its milder grades, can resist the curative action of this potent preserver and restorer of health, a veritable boon to persons in feeble health or liable to incur disease.

Resolutions of Thanks.

At a meeting of the Franklin County Medical Association on the 16th of May, 1893, in regular session, it was Resolved, That this Association do desire to return its thanks to the citizens of Frankfort for the generous and substantial assistance they gave it in entertaining the State Medical Society recently convened in the city of Frankfort and render to them equal congratulations with the F. C. M. A. upon the success of the entertainment.

Resolved, That to the young gentlemen of the Assembly Ball Club, and others of Frankfort society, the F. C. M. A. is indebted for a most enjoyable hop. The hop committee, the floor managers and every gentleman present did all in their power, and indeed all that was necessary, to make it one of the most enjoyable occasions, and for which the F. C. M. A. are most grateful and profoundly thankful.

Resolved, That notwithstanding our citizens came to the aid of the Association with financial assistance and the young gentlemen united in making the reception a grand success, yet without the assistance of the ladies in decorating the hall and entertaining our guests our whole united efforts would have been wanting in that charm which was its chief attraction. The Association as one man bows in acknowledgment of the great assistance they rendered at the reception and hop in a place where few can equal and most certainly none can excel, and assures them it to be their most ardent admirer and humble slave, and with an eastern devotion, bows at the shrine of their loveliness, radiant with their own beauty shall forever challenge its homage and receive its adoration.

Resolved, That the next meeting of this Association be held in the council chamber on the evening of June 24, 1893, and that Dr. J. R. Ely be requested to furnish a paper for discussion by the Association on the "Treatment of Cholera," and that the Secretary be instructed, by postal, to ask the attendance and co-operation of the physicians of the adjoining counties.

Resolved, That the Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements for the Kentucky State Medical Society, Dr. E. E. Hume, be requested to procure a copy of the resolutions adopted by that body on its adjournment and have the same published in the city papers.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

Andrew Correns, of this City, In Attempting to Board a Moving Train, Crushed by the Wheels.

On Wednesday morning, about half past seven o'clock, Andrew Correns, of this city, met a horrible death. He had been over to his garden on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, near the Nicol place, and observing some flat cars to which a switch engine was attached standing at rest, he made an attempt to board one of the cars from the rear.

Just as he was in the act of climbing up the train began to move and he lost his grasp and fell on the track with his left shoulder and arm and part of his leg on the rail. The train was stopped but it was too late to prevent the wheels from crushing the entire arm and mashing his shoulder. He was brought over to the city and taken to the office of Dr. Hume, where his injuries were exposed to view and examined, preparatory to the necessary amputation of the arm. Dr. Hume, recognizing the weakened condition of the wounded man, concluded to defer the work of the knife until after restoratives had been applied and had time to revive him, and it was during this period of anxious suspense that death, about half past eleven o'clock, relieved Correns of his terrible sufferings. The immediate cause of his death was doubtless due to the shock and some internal injury that did not develop itself. The deceased was thirty-eight years of age, and leaves two children and a wife, the sister of Messrs. C. W. & H. Finckel, to mourn his loss. The family occupy the third story of the building on St. Clair street, in which the Finckel brothers keep their meat store, but the remains of the deceased were taken to the residence of Mr. Charles Finckel, on the South Side, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. G. Henderson, of the Methodist Church, on Thursday afternoon. The burial took place in the cemetery in this city. Mr. Correns was a kind hearted, industrious man, who has a large number of friends that deeply regret the deplorable accident.

Coroner Deloney impaneled a jury who, after hearing all the evidence to be obtained in the case, returned a verdict in accordance with the facts related.

Unsolicited.

The following testimonial came to us: Kenyon & Thomas Co., Adams, N. Y.: Gentlemen—For the past two years I have suffered terribly with what doctors call eczema. During this time I have consulted several physicians and used a number of well-known remedies but could get no relief, until finally I was urged to give your remedies a trial. I cannot say enough in praise of them. At present I am as well as I ever was in my life and owe my sincere thanks to you for Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and Tea. Any one doubting the sincerity of this testimonial will confer a favor by addressing, very truly yours, N. J. McNABB, Leominster, Mass.

The Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

IS NO NEW EXPERIMENT.

It has been sold in this city for the last four years. My customers advertise and sell it for me because they are pleased with it. They can take out the flues and clean them. It is charcoal lined. It takes very little ice to keep it cold. It is handsome enough to put in your dinning-room. Call and examine it.

PRICES FROM $8.00 to $75.00.

These figures represent the number of bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which were sold in the United States from March, '91 to March, '92. Two Million, Two Hundred and Twenty-Eight Thousand, Six Hundred and Seventy-Two bottles sold in one year, and each and every bottle was sold on a positive guarantee that money would be refunded if satisfactory results did not follow its use. The secret of its success is plain. It never disappoints and can always be depended on as the very best remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc. Price 50c. and $1.00. At PHIL. CARPENTER'S Drug store.

Got Back Quick.

Otto Schmidt, who broke into a room at the Freeman House some time ago and was sentenced at the last term of the Circuit Court to serve thirty days in jail, was released about 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, his time having expired. Shortly after gaining his liberty he went down to Kagine's restaurant, broke into a room, stole a fine flute and an overcoat, and before 6 o'clock in the evening was arrested by Officers Gordon and Innes and again lodged in his old quarters at the jail. On Tuesday he was held in $300 bond to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court, but as he could not give the bond, was sent back to jail. Officers Gordon and Innes are faithfully performing their duty as policemen, and when they start after an evil-doer they generally get him, regardless of who he may be.

Fail to do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times failed to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Horbichter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine cured sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for Headache, Nervous Prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by J. W. Gayle. Trial bottle free.

Lutheran Service.

Rev. Paul Schenke, of Lexington, will preach at the Southern Presbyterian Church on Monday evening next, at 7:30 o'clock. The entire service will be conducted in the German language, and all of our German citizens are invited to attend.

FLEETWOOD CATALOGUE.

Col. Tarlton's Neat Testimonial to the Roundabout for the Handsome Work.

The ROUNDABOUT has a complete printing establishment—with a bookbinder in connection therewith, conducted by Mr. C. L. Kendall—and executes as good work as might be had in the State, but it does not propose to take up its space devoted to reading matter to vaunt its own praise unless some special feature or circumstance justifies a breach of this rule.

It believes that the work will speak for itself, and that there is just as much impropriety in a newspaper's self praise as in that of any individual.

But when a job of work has been completed and turned over to a customer, who, subsequently, in his examination, finds his delight to impel him to make an unsolicited testimonial to the printer, similar to the following, it is thought that the readers of the paper will readily excuse the transgression:

"Mr. George A. Lewis,
Printer,
As a Remembrance of A Job Well Done.

L. P. TARLTON.

"May 17, 1893."

The foregoing inscription was written in a catalogue finished this week for Col. Tarlton, entitled:

The Thoroughbreds
at Fleetwood,
1893.

It contains about 100 pages of clean, clear nonpareil on heavy number 1 paper, bound in white leatherette, with red lettering and edges, and wide red bordered pages, and is as neat and handsome piece of work of its kind as every facility and skill could possibly execute.

Col. Tarlton's catalogue embraces the pedigrees of four stallions and forty-two mares.

The stallions are Blue Eyes, chestnut, by Enquirer out of Buchu; bred in Fleetwood stud: 1875.

Portland, black, by Virgil out of Finework; bred in Elmendorf stud: 1883.

Aintree, dark bay, by Sefton out of Electric; bred in England: 1884.

Frontino, black, by Enquirer out of Parfalletta; bred in Fleetwood stud: 1887.

The brood mares are all finely bred but are too numerous for an extended notice.

It is the intention of Col. Tarlton to take his Fleetwood yearlings to Chicago, where they will be sold by the Tattersalls at their building, by electric light, on Monday night, June 28, 1893.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contains Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by Druggists, price 75 per bottle.

Examinations.

The annual examination of applicants for teachers certificates will occur at the school building, on June 19th and 20th, for certificates to teach in the white schools, and the 20th and 21st for certificates to teach in the colored schools of the city. Anyone who desires to be examined for a certificate will please notify the Board or Superintendent.

U. V. WILLIAMS, President.
G. T. BLACKLEY, Sec'y School Board.

World's Columbian Exposition

Will be of value to the world by illustrating the improvements in the mechanical arts and eminent physicians will tell you that the progress in medicinal agents has been of equal importance, and as a strengthening laxative that Syrup of Figs is far in advance of all others.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A Few Pointers about Chicago.

As a great many readers of the ROUNDABOUT will make their first trip to Chicago during the World's Fair, a few pointers regarding the geography of the city will be appreciated. In the first place fix firmly in your mind that Lake Michigan forms the eastern boundary of the entire city, and if you stand facing the lake with both arms outstretched the left hand will point to the north and the right hand will point straight down the tracks of the Big Four route to the World's Fair buildings, situated at the southern end of the city. Paste this in your hat and you have the key to the entire situation. Coming into Chicago on trains of the Big Four route, which is the only railroad having an entrance on the south side along the lake front, where all the hotels and boarding houses are located, you will find yourself passing practically through the exposition grounds and a magnificent panoramic view of the fair is obtained.

At the World's Fair station of the Big Four route, if you step off at the Chicago end, you are at the entrance gate to the exposition and can begin "doing" the Fair at once; if you step off on the left side, you will find yourself in the finest residential portion of Chicago, and right in the midst of the World's Fair hotel and boarding house district. The chances are ten to one that you will be within a few minutes' walk of the very place you have selected for your headquarters.

If you prefer to go down town, ten minutes' ride will bring you to the new Twelfth Street station, in the heart of the city. Now bear in mind the manifest advantage of entering Chicago on the Big Four route. In the first place you avoid entirely the bother and trouble of a tedious transfer across the city, which is necessary in all other lines, being landed directly at the exposition grounds, an advantage offered by no other line; and in the second place you can so fix the geography of the city in your mind that you will at once become as familiar with Chicago as you are with your own town.

Another point in favor of the Big Four route is found in the fact that if you enter Cincinnati on the Queen & Crescent route, Louisville & Nashville R. R., Kentucky Central Ry., Chesapeake & Ohio Ry., or Baltimore & Ohio S. W. R. R., connection is made in Union depot, avoiding the disagreeable transfer necessary via all other lines. For full particulars address D. B. MARTIN, General Passenger agent, Cincinnati.

World's Fair and American Rail- ways.

THE QUEEN & CRESENT ROUTE widely known as the road running the "Finest Trains in the South," is in the field to carry everybody from the South to the World's Fair, at Chicago.
No part of the Southern country is left uncared for by this great railway and its connections. The Through Car System is an admirable exposition of the wonderful capabilities of American railroading. From New Orleans through sleeping cars run daily, morning and evening, carrying its passengers via Cincinnati or Louisville, as they may select.

From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson another through sleeping car line comes to join and become part of the magnificent vestibuled through trains, which passing through Birmingham and the famous Willa-Vale, of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Florida, Brunswick and Atlanta, Georgia, over the E. T. V. & Ga.
Ry., and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern,
through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the world to Oakdale, where another magnificent Pullman car is received, coming from the Richmond and Danville system from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia, S. C., the beautiful French Broad country, and Asheville, N. C., and Knoxville, Tennessee.

The time to Chicago is made so as to afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities, and arrivals in Chicago.

Passengers can purchase tickets
good over one line north of the river, and returning via another if they desire a variable route without extra charge. Or they can go via Cincinnati, returning via Louisville or vice versa.

Round trip tickets on sale at reduced rates. Agents of Chicago line will, on request assist in looking up rooms or accommodation for visitors to the Fair.

Everything that an almost perfect system can devise to deserve the praise and patronage of the traveling public has been provided. Any ble information and assistance. R.
